

presents

New Hope for the Opioid Epidemic

A MAA Town Hall Symposium

The nation's Opioid crisis has cost thousands of lives and had an economic impact exceeding $1 trillion from 2001 to 2017, according to researchers.

Join the Medical Association of Atlanta as we hear from MAA members and the public about the Opioid epidemic in Georgia and discuss possible solutions that offer hope for the future.

Speakers to include:

Ira Horowitz, M.D.- Moderator

Martha Wilber, M.D. – President, Medical Association of Atlanta

Patrice Harris, M.D. – President, American Medical Association

Jim Langford – Executive Director, GA Prevention Project

Allie Armbruster - A Story of Hope

Justine Welsh, M.D. – Program Director, Emory Adolescent Substance Abuse Treatment (EAST) Services

Discussing medication assisted treatment, myths and reality

MAA Town Hall Symposium

When: Saturday, Feb. 9, 2019 | 10:00 am

Where: Emory University School of Medicine

100 Woodruff Circle

Atlanta, Georgia 30322

Register to attend:

www.maa-assn.org or 404-881-1020